International Medical Advice

International Medical Advice is the department of KLM Health Services, specialized in health care and health protection for internationally enterprising companies and their employees (expatriates, business travelers).

Mission

IMA's mission is to support you in reducing health risks associated with international enterprising by offering individual care and corporate advice, resulting in:

- Reduction of illness and improved well-being and workability of employees;
- Reduction of risk to corporate interests caused by health hazards;
- Contribution to public health by preventing transportation of communicable diseases.

Products

IMA offers a complete package of products and services, designed to protect the health and well-being of staff living or traveling abroad. This package is realized in concert with company doctors of KLM Health Services, the Travel Clinics of Airport Medical Services (Schiphol, Amsterdam), and several university clinics in Amsterdam.

Quality standards

The quality of our products and services is guaranteed by our central expertises: occupational health and travel medicine. You can benefit from IMA's comprehensive experience in these fields, based on long-established relations with several internationally operating companies.
